TELLS MICHIGAN ATTITUDE TOWARD GOOD HIGHWAYS

Vice-President Dodge Company, Here
Saturday Says People There Want
Road Taxes—Realize Value
To Business

SHOWS HOW ROADS WOULD BUILD UP THIS SECTION

Interesting data regarding the attitude of the people of Michigan toward good roads was obtained in an interview today with C. W. Matherson, vice-president of the Dodge Motor company who was in Middlesboro Saturday.

"The people of Michigan want to be taxed, they do not want to be taxed for increased taxes for roads," he said. "They are now trying to have a two-cent gasoline tax bill passed to raise revenue for road building and repair. This would bring in a revenue nearly twice as much as is required for the purpose but the people demand it."

"I was in the office of the governor at Lansing last Wednesday and we discussed the proposition. He is in favor of a weight tax to take the place of the horse-power tax now employed. The gasoline tax has many advantageous features but it also has some insidious even pernicious, qualities. It is true, that owing to the fluctuating price of gasoline, the customer pays the tax without realizing it, but the passage of a two-cent tax would lead to a three-cent or even greater tax as it has done in other states. On the other hand, when the weight tax method is used, the purchaser pays the entire sum at one time and pays in proportion to the weight of his car."

As a result of the willingness of the Michigan people to pay for good roads he explained, the entire state is now criss-crossed with smooth, concrete roads that are good for half a century. Flourishing towns with neat and tasteful houses have sprung up. A complete metamorphosis in the condition of the road has taken place in the past few years.

"Good roads can build up any section of the country. Just look how they have popularized the scenery of the White mountains. Why, the natural scenery of Kentucky is much more splendid. Good roads bring tourists and these ever leave a path of money behind them. Nothing will build up this section of the state like good roads."

Mr. Matherson was favorably impressed with the city but particularly pleased with the golf links and the Cumberland hotel. He was the guest of F. P. Senles and a few other business men at the country Club Friday afternoon.

"The hotel here is on a par with any that I have ever visited," he declared. "The room service, the bill of fare, the clean fresh atmosphere of the place is unexcelled."

In speaking of his own business, the vice-president said that March was the most successful month that the Dodge Bros. company had ever experienced. Nearly twenty thousand cars were sold and delivered during the month. The amount of orders now greatly exceed the capacity of the factories. The Dodge is especially popular in sections of the country having rough roads he says, and a large percentage of their sales is made in such places.

DOUBLE CEREMONY IN ROYAL WEDDING

Princess Yolande and Count Calvi Wed
With Civil Then Religious Service

By Associated Press.

ROME, Apr. 9.—Princess Yolande, eldest daughter of the King of Italy, was married today to Count Calvi di Bergolo, captain of cavalry who holds a decoration for bravery in the world war. The civil service took place in the grand hall of Quirinal palace where under the pope's cardinals met to choose the ruler of the church, more recently President Wilson and other famous personages have been entertained there. The wedding party presented a brilliant spectacle today with the colorful uniforms of seven hundred dignitaries and the gorgeous banks of flowers. Yolande wore the traditional white gown. The Count was dressed in his army uniform. The religious ceremony was held in the Pauline Chapel also within the Quirinal. While the choir chanted the couple knelt on red cushions and monsignor Tizze performed the second ceremony.

MACON ROTARIANS HONOR DOUGLAS

Most Widely Loved Citizen in City, Comment on Minister Who Accepts Call Here

Dr. Rutherford E. Douglas, who has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church of this city and who preached at both services at that church yesterday, has been pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Macon, Ga., twenty-one years.

The regard and affection the people of Macon have for Doctor Douglas are indicated in comments in "Rotary Throbs," the weekly paper of the Rotary club in Macon. In the issue of March 28, the president of the club, J. Ellsworth Hall, said:

"We didn't believe it possible, but it has come to pass that our dearly beloved Rutherford has definitely made up his mind to accept a call to serve mankind in his adored Kentucky. We think his greater usefulness is at Macon, but his is the duty and his the decision."

"He has wrought wonderfully here, for 21 years. The great benefits of his dedicated life have been cumulative, so that today, we believed, he is more widely loved than any other citizen of Macon."

"We shall miss him and we shall mourn that empty chair."

In the issue of Rotary Throbs of April 3, the editor of the Throbs, Will D. Anderson, president of the Bibbs mills, the largest cotton mills in the Macon district, writes:

"If this editor should be called on to name the most useful citizen of Macon, he would unhesitatingly tap Rutherford Douglas on the shoulder."

"That he was a staunch churchman, a good preacher, a splendid pastor, and a Godly man, we all well know, and before he leaves Macon these things will be said about him frequently by many people."

"But more than all that, he was a splendid useful citizen."

"For many years past, few things of real value to the town and of real benefit and help to the people were enterprised or carried on without Rutherford Douglas having a hand in it. That he would be a member of the board, one of a committee, one of the advisory council, a director, or a worker, was a foregone conclusion."

"While thoroughly alive and modern active, courageous, and full of 'pep' he was at the same time safe and conservative."

"As Carlyle wrote less justly of Edward Irving, 'reader think that here once more was a genuine man sent into this, our ungenuine phantasmagory of a world, which would go to ruin without such.'"

Douglasses Return To Macon

Dr. and Mrs. Rutherford E. Douglas after spending the week end here, has returned to Macon Ga., this morning. They will be here after the first of May to take up their residence when Dr. Douglas will assume his duties as pastor of the First Presbyterian church here.

Could You Spend a Million a Month? John D., Jr., Gets That Amount and Henry Ford Gets Seven Million

By EDWARD THIERRY

NEW YORK, April 9.—Could you spend $7,000,000 a month? Or even $1,000,000 a month?

Dizzy incomes these. One is Henry Ford's. The other is what John D. Rockefeller, Jr., gets in Standard Oil dividends alone.

The Senate investigation of the oil industry disclosed that young John D. owns one-sixth of the stock in the various Standard Oil companies and that his income, excluding dividends from railroads and other enterprises, is about $12,000,000 a year.

Ford himself doesn't know what his income is. He says he can't tell within $15,000,000 what he has in the bank. Last year he admitted that he paid $70,000,000 income tax, but this included the manufacturer's tax. It has been estimated that his personal income is about $85,000,000.

Both Have Simple Tastes

Unlike the fictionalized Brewster these two men don't even try to keep up to it. Both have simple tastes.

Rockefeller has a seven-story house in New York, a week-end house near his father's Pocantico Hills estate called Aheyton Lodge, and a summer home at Seal Harbor, Me.

Ford's house at Dearborn, Mich. is a rambling stone structure on a 7000-acre estate and has about 20 rooms. Nearby is his farm. His only other home is a cottage next to Thomas A. Edison's winter place at Fort Myers, Florida.

Servants in the Rockefeller town house number 25. Ford has half that number at Dearborn; two of them are Japs.

Each has several automobiles. For years Rockefeller drove himself in his electric runabout. Ford often drives a Ford coupe, but he also has a simple and several other big cars. Rockefeller, like his father, has never owned a yacht. Ford has a small yacht on the Great Lakes, and an electric boat on the River Rouge.

Neither has ever gone in for racing horses show horses, polo, or any other of the millionaire sports. Both like to chop wood; Rockefeller and his three sons chop and carry wood when they are in the country; Ford helps cut the firewood on his regular yearly camping trip.

Neither Plays Much Golf

Neither cares much about golf; last winter Rockefeller took his first lesson while visiting his father at Osmond Beach. He prefers to play the violin. Ford's best-loved sports are ice skating in the winter and camping in the summer.

Ford travels more than Rockefeller does. Both use private railroad cars. Ford's is called the "Fair Lane." He likes speed when he rides in an automobile, averaging 40 to 45 miles an hour.

Rockefeller dresses better than Ford does. He clings to the silk hat for formal wear, while Ford rarely wears a hat at all. Ford's friends say his suits are "band-me-downs."

Neither cares for social activities. Nor do their wives. Neither Mrs. Rockefeller nor Mrs. Ford care for diamonds. They are both the old-fashioned mother type. The Rockefellers have four children: Abby, who made her debut last fall, John D. 3rd, Nelson and William. The Fords' only child is Edsel, who has two children. Edsel has a separate home at Grosbe Pointe, Mich.

Rockefeller is studious, scholarly and religious. Ford's library is large, made up of technical works and he still spends much of his time in his private laboratory at home. He says he "believes in religion, but doesn't work at it much."

JAR OF MUSTARD DEFLECTS HOLD UP

Taxi Driver Outwits Would Be Highwayman and Lands Him
In Jail

Plans of a highway man to compel his victim to drive him to Knoxville were rudely shattered by a jar of mustard here early Sunday morning. E. E. Thompson of Excelsior W. Va., was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of robbery this morning. W. A. Fulk, taxi driver of Pineville who had been robbed and who brought about the capture of Thompson, was the complaining witness.

Thompson accosted the driver at Pineville about 11 o'clock Saturday night and held him up at the point of a gun. Taking Fulk's pistol from him, he ordered the latter to drive to Knoxville, warning him that any outcry or attempt to notify officers would be punished by instant death.

Obedying the orders of his unwelcome passenger, Fulk drove out of Pineville and on through Middlesboro, not attempting to call for help as he passed here. When they had gone almost to Cumberland Gap, however, the driver said it would be impossible to go much farther on account of the condition of his car. Thompson agreed to return to Middlesboro to have it fixed.

Arriving in Middlesboro, Fulk pretended to be hungry and asked to go into a restaurant for something to eat. The other consented to this and went inside the restaurant with Fulk. When his captor's attention was drawn elsewhere, Fulk picked up a jar of mustard and dealt Thompson a powerful blow in the face with it. Recovering his property from the prostrate man, he called the police department.

Thompson was arrested about 1:30 Sunday morning on the railroad yards by Herbert Ball. He did not deny the charges against him in police court this morning. His bond was fixed at $1,000. He is still held at the city jail.

ROADS NEAR HERE ARE FAIRLY GOOD

Road To Knoxville Fine But For Detour—Best After Getting Out Of City Limits

Information obtainable in an interview with garage men and others in a position to know regarding road conditions here and in other sections traveled by local motorists indicate that the roads are fairly good after leaving Middlesboro. Locally, road and street conditions are described as bad, worse and worst.

The road to Knoxville is in fair condition with the exception of a point beyond Tazewell where a section of road is being built. A detour is necessary here, though the way around is practically impassable in bad weather.

The road from Pineville to Corbin is being graded now for extensive improvements. A cement base with a rock asphalt surface is the type of road planned there. Five miles of the distance has been surveyed and labor and materials are ready to continue the work.

The roads from Middlesboro to Pineville, Cumberland Gap, Rose Hill and other points are said to be good after leaving the city limits.

GASTINEAU COMPANY PRE- PARING FOR BIG YEAR

Preparations for a big year's business are being made by the W. A.
Gastineau company, agents for the Moon, Gray, Maxwell and Chalmers cars. The old building on Ninth street which they bought for temporary use is now being remodeled throughout. New weather boarding is taking the place of the old and other repairs which will convert it into a serviceable building for temporary use are being made.

The firm is planning a new modern garage and drive in filling station but details of the proposition have not been worked out. The old building will serve as storing place for cars until the new garage is built.

Mr. Gastineau says that a car load of Maxwell automobiles were received Saturday. This car has been vastly improved since the factory changed ownership and is becoming popular in Middlesboro. Sales of the Moon and Gray cars have also been encouraging.

Average auto consumption of gaso-

Our Automobiles

WOULD LICENSE ALL AUTO DRIVERS

Club Advocates Law to Examine All Drivers in Country, Insure Safety

SAFE DRIVERS' CLUBS throughout the United States are trying to effect laws which would require the licensing of every automobile driver in the country.

Thus, they maintain, the chaff would be gleaned from the wheat, a higher sense of responsibility behind the steering wheel would be felt and automobile accidents in general would be diminished.

Fifteen of the 48 states already have automobile drivers' license laws but even these laws are considered inadequate. Five of these 15 states place no limit on the age of the driver while in other states the minimum driving age varies from 14 to 18. Only 11 of the states require mental and physical examinations of the candidate for a license.

Fourteen of the states in the country haven't even a chauffeurs' licensing law.

After Incompetents

These safety clubs do not demand license laws for the taxation to be derived from them, or even for the record to be had. Their only purpose is to find some way by which the incompetent, irresponsible driver will be eliminated. To this end they demand a thorough examination of each applicant before a license is furnished to him.

Such an examination would require:

Driving over a specified road, accompanied by a police officer, and again under his observation from a machine following behind the applicant.

Working knowledge of the traffic laws.

Working knowledge of the English language, so every driver may understand road signs.

Physical fitness to drive an automobile.

Incapacitated Persons

The last requirement has aroused considerable controversy. There are some advocates of a licensing law that would bar deaf persons from the steering wheel.

They would also disqualify one-legged or one-armed persons, unless they had attachments that would serve as well as their lost limbs for driving.

But in cases where such physically incapacitated persons showed they could handle a car as well as a person with two arms and two legs, these say the laws should be lenient enough to give them the privilege of driving.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB FOR MIDDLESBORO

Local Business Men And Motorists See Great Help To City In Such Organization

That an automobile club or some organization which would answer the purpose of such a club should be formed in Middlesboro is the opinion of some local garage owners, other business men and motorists. Considering the size of the city, the number of motor vehicles here and the many advantages to automobile owners and tourists which would inure from an automobile club, it is the popular opinion that such a club would meet with instant success here.

One of the many advantages offered by such clubs is that of giving out information of roads to motorists. In other cities there are auto clubs which furnish printed instruction and road maps, also give detailed information regarding road condition. In Middlesboro such information is often hard to find. While any garage proprietor or motorist will always aid in any way possible in matters of this kind, they have not the time to keep fully informed on the subject.

Another advantageous feature that has been pointed out by those interested is the protection from theft which an automobile club offers. It is said that fewer cars are stolen where they have an automobile club tag and where thefts are committed the club offer rewards and in other ways lend invaluable aid in bringing the offenders to justice. In view of the fact that several cars have been stolen in this vicinity during the past few months this feature of auto club service has a special appeal to local motorists.

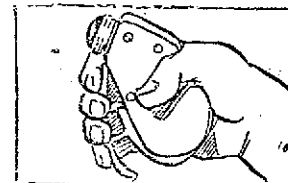

An automobile club in itself is perhaps one of the greatest advertising mediums of a city. Visiting tourists are there made to feel at home, advantages of the city are pointed out and perhaps the road maps carried away by them contain information of the city's industries, resources and, in general, reasons why it would be a good place in which to live and to establish a business.

So far as is known no efforts have been made to organize such a club here, but the subject has received the attention of many and these serious consideration or some. No one seems to directly oppose such a move though some are indifferent in regard to it.

FOUR BRITISH BIRDMEN IN RACE TO WIN THE TITLE "MAGELLAN OF THE AIR" IN FEW WEEKS

LONDON, April, 6.—Striving to become the Magellans of the air, four British birdmen will hop off within a few weeks here in a quadrangular race to complete the first flight around the world.

It was in 1522—101 years ago—that a handful of sailors who had started out with Ferdinand Magellan, Portuguese navigator, landed at Seville and completed the first circumnavigation of the globe after more than three years of cruising.

Today these four British Expeditions will try with ships of the air to duplicate the achievement of the Magellan cruise:

One: The expedition of Sir Keith Smith.

Two: That headed by Alan J. Cobham.

Three: A project in which R. H. McIntosh, Captain Tyms and Captain A. McCloughry will be associated.

Four: An expedition headed by Captain Norman MacMillan.

All four contestants plan to start late this month or early next month.

Ground Carefully Laid

Because of the careful preliminary organization work being done by each of the four leaders, aviation experts here believe at least one expedition will reach its goal, if all of them do not.

Sir Keith Smith, it will be remembered last year planned a flight around the world with his brother, Sir Ross Smith. But when Sir Ross lost his life in an accident, the project was abandoned.

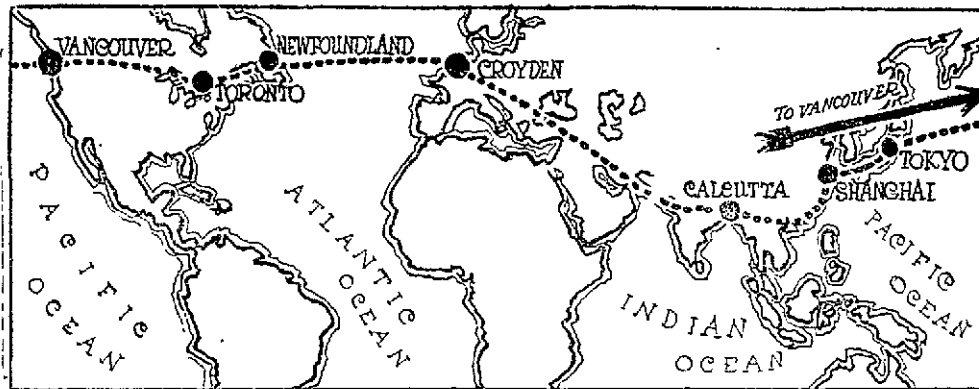

Since that time Sir Keith has made a tour around the world in which he inspected the route he intends to follow. He will use a Vickers-Viking plane with a Napier "Lion" engine.

Cobham Famed Pilot

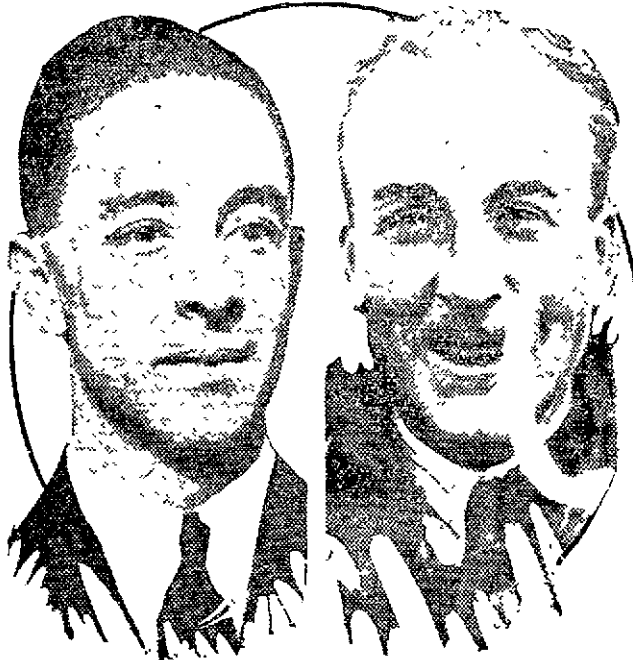

Cobham is a famous de Havilland pilot who makes trips in the regular air passenger service between London and Paris. He'll use a de Havilland 9 with a 240-horsepower Sudeley-Puma engine.

With him he will take Mackenzies Grieve as navigator. Grieve was with Hawker in his famous trans-Atlantic flight.

Cobham expects to make the flight in 60 days. He will fly from England across Central Europe to Constantinople via Vienna; thence via Aleppo to Bagdad; on to Calcutta, Shanghai, the Aleutian Islands and Vancouver. He will fly across Canada to St. Johns, N. F., thence across the Atlantic to his starting point.

McIntosh, Tyms and McCloughry will follow almost the same route.

They will use a Fairey twin-float seaplane with a Rolls-Royce "Candor" engine.

MacMillan With Blake

Captain MacMillan, fourth leader in the race, went 10,000 miles last year with Major Blake in the latter's attempt to fly around the world.

MacMillan will be accompanied by G. Malins who was also in the Blake expedition. They are backed by a London club which is building a machine the dimensions and character of which are being kept secret.

The route MacMillan proposes is: From England via Italy, Greece, Egypt and Palestine to Bagdad; thence across India and Persia to Burma, China and Japan.

Then the expedition will cut around the edge of southern Siberia to the Aleutian Islands and around by southern Alaska to Vancouver.

Then MacMillan will cross the Canadian mainland to Halifax and will cross the Atlantic in a manner not heretofore attempted: Via Greenland, Ireland, the Faroe Islands, Orkney, Shetland, Scotland—Then to London.

In preparation for the trip "advance agents" will place caches of food and gasoline on the uninhabited islands of the Aleutian and Kurile groups.

Firemen of Essen Lead Double Lives; They Squelch Flames and Bandits, Too

GERMAN FIREMEN, ARMED WITH CLUBS, READY TO FIGHT FIRES OR BANDITS.

By Bob Dorman

ESSEN, Germany, April 4.—Fires or bandits! Firemen here fight them both with equal effectiveness.

They have to, for the governmental police have been ousted from the occupied territory, and the firemen have to carry on for them. When an alarm rings they don't know whether it's a call for a fire or a riot. So they rush out, armed with clubs and axes, prepared for either emergency.

In Germany all police are under the supervision of the central government. When the French occupied this territory they disbanded the Essen force.

Citizens tried to start a local unit, but Berlin forbade it.

So Essen covers at night behind closed doors, while marauders, in bands 2 to 50 strong, roam and loot in the dark streets.

Firemen are summoned by either messenger or fire alarm, for no telephones are operating. They come on the run, and have been doing heroic work in keeping the looting down to a minimum. But their powers are limited. They are not allowed to patrol the streets.

But they are the last vestige of an organized German force that can keep order in the Ruhr. All the green police are gone.

I witnessed the expulsion of the last detail, a force of 119 stationed at Oberhausen.

It was 3 a. m. Four companies of infantry, accompanied by armored autos and machine gun detachments, marched quietly through the dark deserted streets. As they neared the police headquarters, the armed trucks and machine guns covered the advance. It was carried out with military precision.

A sharp knock at the door, a low exclamation of surprise and the half-awakened German "schupo" were quickly herded together. A search for arms, a command to get ready, and the group was soon on its way to the auto trucks, which carried them through the territory of the Ruhr to Dorsten, where they were ordered out and told to march ahead into Germany.

The last of the police were gone and only the firemen were left.

THE "BEST SELLER"

They could not blot it out, however they would. Threats, prison, torture; still the work went on; One ceased his labors, others snatched them up, And carried on, until the book was done.

It traveled far, sore hindered and by stealth; England, the Continent—city and vale All craved alike the message that it brought, Wherever someone read the wondrous tale. Till in eight hundred tongues and dialects Today it travels worldwide; tribe and shore Whereof those first translators never dreamed Have heard the story told so long before.

The centuries wake. The heaven fills the cup. A lighted candle that will not be hidden— The Bible stands; its invitation waits Till all we unto God's great feast are bidden!

L. M. U. WINS GAME WITH UNION 4 TO 3

Murray, University Catcher Sustains Broken Leg in Match at Barbourville Saturday

L. M. U. trimmed the Union College boys to the tune of 4 to 3 in the base ball game which was played at Barbourville Saturday. While sliding in at third, Crosby Murray, L. M. U. player, broke his leg. This unfortunate happening slowed down the game. In the third inning Maile who was safe on an error was sacrificed to second by Thompson. Work singled, scoring Maile and Murray attempted to take third on the hits. It was at this time that Murray met with the accident.

In spite of the fact that they lost a valuable man, L. M. U. did some excellent playing. The Lincoln Braves are preparing for the games with the Johnson Bible College which are scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday. Having won the two first games of the season, the Braves are hoping to attach the J. B. C. scalp to their belt.

TODAY'S RECIPES

MUSHROOM SAUTE with CREAM SAUCE

Wash and remove stems from one pound of fresh mushrooms. Cut stems into small pieces and place over the fire in one cup of water. Cook 20 minutes and strain off liquid.

Place about three tablespoons of butter in a frying pan and in it cook the caps about 10 minutes. Place these caps on six small slices of toast. To the butter remaining in the pan, add one tablespoon flour, a half teaspoon salt and a little cayenne, a cup of cream and a half cup of the liquid strained from the cooked stems. Bring to a boiling point, cook three minutes and then pour around the mushrooms on toast. Serve immediately.

HAM AND EGGS

Ham and eggs retains its individuality as a dish for luncheon or supper with bread, or a baked potato, accompanying it. A good recipe for this combination is as follows:

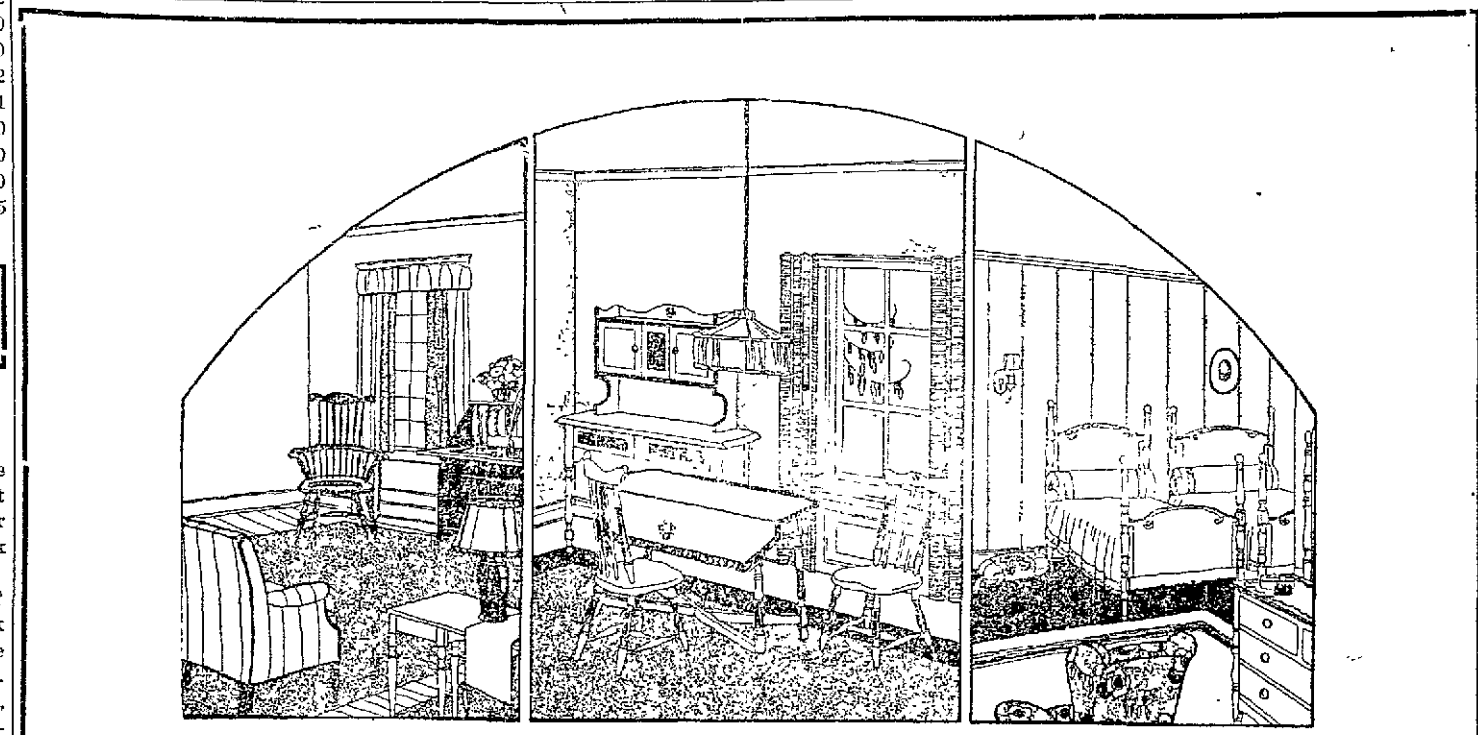

Take one and one-half cups of chopped, cooked ham. Cook the ham for two minutes in two tablespoons of butter and two tablespoon of flour, stirring all the time. Add one-fourth teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of mustard and one cup of milk, and cook until thickened. Pour this into a buttered dish, which can be placed in the oven and served at the table.

Make six hollow places in the mixture, and in each one drop an egg. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and cover with buttered crumbs. Bake until egg is set. The egg may be soft or cooked hard, as the family prefers. Serve at once.

The crumbs are soft bread crumbs with enough melted butter added to make them well buttered.

Sugar situation is reported more strained. Coffee should be.

How Should a Small Apartment be Furnished To Be Comfortable as well as Attractive?

And we might add without a large expenditure. We have several suggestions to offer in reply to this question and if you will come in to see us, we shall be glad to talk things over with you and give you an approximate estimate of the cost of furnishing the kind of apartment you want. This illustration is just one of the several suggestions we offer, after a most careful study.

LIVING ROOM
The tendency nowadays is to break away from the suite idea in the living room, which so often gives a cast iron similarity to the respective pieces. See what an interesting room the unwatched pieces in the above illustration make?

BEDROOM
In this bedroom we have judiciously combined colonial furniture with an odd chair. Again this breaks away from the monotony of sameness and gives a pleasant feeling of harmonious contrast. Where the room is too small for twin beds, the same style may be had in a double bed.

BREAKFAST ROOM
The Breakfast Room is being more favored than the dining room in the small apartment. The reason is quite obvious. The pieces are built smaller, more compact and the colors are so much gayer and lighter. This makes a small room appear larger and brighter.
